A Working Dog

I've seen the Alps in winter
And the Gulf of Mexico
The Great Sahara Desert
And palm trees in a row.

I've read the works of Shakespeare
And seen Picasso's paint
The sounds of concert pianists
And heard the bagpipes quaint.

And all of these have thrilled me
But not one could compare
With watching herding dogs a-working
In singles or a pair.

There's magic in each movement
That Mozart never had
And beauty in each turn
That makes my heart feel glad.

There's science in each answer
Of every whistled tone
That Newton never thought of
Nor ever was he shown.

There's a feeling in the handling
That only poet's know
Or men that work with sheepdogs
And feel the teamwork grow.

Wherever life may take you
In sunshine or in fog
You'll never quite forget it –
When once you've worked your dog.
